CHAPTER I

HISTORY OF INTERCOLLEGIATE BASEBALL AT EASTERN ILLINOIS UNIVERSITY FROM 1904 TO 1922

The purpose of this thesis was to collect, or ~~collect~~ chronologically, and record relevant facts of the history of Intercollegiate Baseball at Eastern Illinois University into one permanent volume.

Data pertinent to the history of Intercollegiate Baseball at Eastern Illinois University was gathered from the following sources: Eastern Illinois Normal School Classbook, Eastern Illinois Normal School Senior Yearbook, Eastern Illinois Normal School Warbler, Eastern Illinois University Warbler, Charleston Courier, Charleston Courier-News, Normal School News, Teachers College News, Decatur Herald, Eastern State News, Eastern Teachers News, Eastern Illinois varsity baseball scorebooks, Fifty Years of Public Service, and interviews with various people connected with the history of baseball at Eastern Illinois University.

Weaknesses were apparent in this thesis due to many complications. Lack of old and accurate records during the early years of the sport was a hindrance to the writer. Many of the records list the scores, but fail to record the teams played; other records list the teams played but fail to record the scores; still others list the teams and the scores, but fail to show where and when the game was played. In addition, the records are often incomplete and contain many errors.

taken as the final authority. The interviews were not totally dependable due to the fact that the person interviewed had to rely mainly on memory. The interviews may also bring out a bias opinion of the history. The lineups presented in this thesis do not present a true picture of the whole season. The players presented in these seasonal lineups were not necessarily the ones who played in the regular lineup for the whole season. Also, the players' positions presented in the seasonal lineups were not always the ones they retained the entire season. Lack of available records did hinder the writer in presenting the teams' batting averages, the pitchers' earned averages, reasons for tie games, and reasons for games which were scheduled, but never played. Lack of available records did hinder the writer in presenting the complete roster of players for each season and their proper given names.

The main method of research used in this thesis was the historical and biographical. "The historical and biographical method uses library and documentary research techniques; validates source material and testimony; emphasizes chronological sequence; social implications."¹ Interviews were also used as a minor method of attaining information.

The chapters of this thesis are chronologically

The appendix will reveal the following facts:

Appendix A, Yearly Won and Loss Records; Appendix B, Total Runs Scored Each Season; Appendix C, Yearly Schedules; Appendix D, Yearly Squads; Appendix E, Eastern's Won and Loss Record Against Each Opponent; and Appendix F, Coaches' Won and Loss Record.

Intercollegiate, in this thesis, means the participation between two college teams, one college team and one high school team, or one college team and one independent team. It was necessary to include all these different divisions in the definition of intercollegiate because Eastern has played high school teams, college teams, and independent baseball teams. In the interest of economy of space college and university names such as: Bradley University, Northern Illinois University, Southern Illinois University, and others will be abbreviated as Bradley, Northern, Southern in the body of the thesis.

CHAPTER II

THE INAUGURATION OF BASEBALL AT EASTERN ILLINOIS UNIVERSITY FROM 1904 TO 1912

Organized intercollegiate baseball at Eastern Illinois University began in the spring of 1904. "Informally organized pick up teams among the students played a few games in 1901-1903, winning two and losing six during that period, according to incomplete records."¹ The men who were largely responsible for organizing baseball at Eastern were Albert Blythe Crowe, a science teacher at Eastern, George Tarble, and Newt Tarble, both students at Eastern.

Mr. Albert Blythe Crowe came to Eastern in 1903 as a teacher of both chemistry and physics. He remained as a teacher in these two fields until the four-year course was begun. "He was then made head of the chemistry department where he remained until 1935."²

Mr. A. B. Crowe was a graduate of Hanover College in Indiana. He also received his Master's Degree from Hanover. His first three years of teaching were spent teaching in rural schools. His next experience with teaching was in the Fort Wayne High School, Fort Wayne, Indiana where he remained for ten years. Eastern was his next and last teaching position. He taught at Eastern until his retirement in 1939. The Teachers College News had this to say about his retirement, "Easter, Illinois State Teachers College's 40th Anniversary of service, culminating on commencement day, June 2, terminated the career of one of the most respected teachers, A. B. Crowe."³

Mr. A. B. Crowe was married and the father of six children. The children were: Stanley, Albert, May, Edith, Elizabeth, and Eleanor. His wife died giving birth to Eleanor, the youngest child of the family. Dr. Phipps, a member of the Eastern chemistry staff, said this about Mr. A. B. Crowe, "He was both a father and a mother to six children."⁴ At the present time, five of Mr. Crowe's six children are living. Stanley died in Colorado Springs at a young age.

Mr. A. B. Crowe helped organize baseball at Eastern in 1904. He assumed this added duty of coaching the baseball team until Mr. Lantz arrived in the spring of 1911. Miss Annie Weller, an instructor at Eastern, said this about Mr. Crowe, "He was very fond of athletics and students and did a great deal for them both."⁵

Mr. A. B. Crowe, according to incomplete records, coached a total of 49 games, winning 27, losing 21, and tying 1. Mr. Crowe commented in the 1913 Warper, "The best thing that can be said about our baseball team, past and present, is that our teams have always played clean ball, showed good sportsmanship on the field, accepted defeat philosophically, victory modestly, and have everywhere won the respect of their opponents."⁶

1904 SEASON

Mr. A. S. Crowe said, "It was in the winter of 1903-04, that two boys came to my classroom, one a first year student, the other an eighth grade boy, and announced that they were George and Newt Tarble."⁷ Newt and George had heard that Mr. Crowe was a baseball fan and wondered if he could help them get a team organized. The boys gathered a list of students who were interested in baseball and took it to Mr. Crowe to insure him that there were enough ballplayers available. In the spring, a ball diamond was laid out on the football field by Mr. Crowe and the team members. Before too many days passed, Eastern had its first organized team composed of the Tarble brothers battery and seven other candidates that were least likely to hinder the exceptionally fine battery. "Games were played with town teams of Charleston, Mattoon, and Westfield, last mentioned playing under the pseudonym of the Westfield College Club."⁸ Newt did a good job of pitching and the team seemed to score just enough runs to edge their opponents. The team was poorly equipped and without uniforms, but they always gave a respectable account of themselves.

The scores of the 1904 season were not available from the records which were used in this study, therefore, the season's record cannot be precisely determined.

1905 SEASON

The 1905 season showed great improvement over the previous season. Uniforms were purchased and the team gave a handsome appearance. Competition was greatly strengthened due to scheduling of some of the colleges in eastern Illinois and western Indiana. The Tarble battery, older and more experienced, were back for another season. New and improved personnel strengthened the infield and outfield and the team shaped up into real respectable form. "Eastern made a good showing by winning a majority of the games."⁹ Scores were unavailable for the games played, as they were for the 1904 season.

1906 SEASON

The 1906 season was one of more victories for Eastern and its fine pitcher, Newt Tarble. Three games were scheduled and played against other colleges, with Eastern winning two of the three games. Indiana State was the opponent in two of these games and Rose Poly was the other college opponent. Eastern split the two game series with Indiana State by scores of 3-0 and 1-3. Rose Poly was outscored by a 4-2 score. Three other games were played these games, and close out its season with a five won and one loss.¹⁰

Newt and George Tarble carried the big load for Eastern's ball team, but they were amply supported by the hitting and fielding of Ernest Bradford at second base, Clem Vaughn at third base, and Clin Gore in left field. The other members that were usually in the lineup were: William Donnost at first base, Torney Ivy at shortstop, Homer Gaston in center field, and Thurman Margason in right field.¹¹

1907 marked another real good season for Mr. Albert Crowe's fine baseball team. Eastern met and defeated five out of their six opponents. Newt Tarble continued to be a real fine pitcher, as Eastern's opponents were shut-out three times in six games played. Two new colleges were added to Eastern's schedule. Central Indiana of Indianapolis, Indiana and DePauw from Greencastle, Indiana were challenged and defeated on the local field by 12-0 and 1-0 scores respectively. Eastern met two college foes from the 1906 season and defeated them. Rose Poly was the first to fall by a 1-0 score and Indiana State took it on the chin next by a 4-2 count. The lone defeat for Mr. Crowe's squad came at the hands of a Charleston Park team by a 6-0 score.¹²

The 1903 season saw Eastern winning nine games and losing three. Newt Tarble was again the outstanding pitcher on the team. "During these years of victories the words baseball and Tarble were synonymous about school and town, and the question of the greatest local interest was, 'How's Newt's Arm?'"¹⁴ His brother, George was also back for another year behind the plate. "George was of good backstop quality, who could whip the ball down to second like a professional."¹⁵ Eastern met Indiana State and Rose Poly for the third straight season. Rose Poly was defeated by a 2-1 score, but Indiana State beat Mr. Crowe's squad two out of three games by 2-3, 2-1, and 0-4 scores. Four new opponents were added to the schedule. Bradley University was met and defeated by a 3-1 score. Franklin College of Franklin, Indiana, suffered its first loss at the hands of Eastern by a 6-5 score. The Illinois Freshmen team appeared here for the first time and promptly defeated Eastern by a 1-4 score. Millikin University's baseball team started the beginning of a close rivalry with Eastern

Eastern by being defeated 2-1 and 3-1.¹⁶

1909 SEASON

The 1909 baseball season marked the sixth straight time Coach A. B. Crowe's diamond crew had a winning season. They won five and lost four. George and Newt Tarble did the catching and pitching, respectively for their sixth straight year. It was during these early years that a person could play baseball as many seasons as he wanted to. Eastern continued to play a rough schedule. Rose Poly played and defeated Eastern twice during the season by a 1-3 and 1-2 scores. The Charleston Courier had this comment, "Coach A. B. Crowe of the Normal School, accompanied by twelve husky teachers, comprising the baseball team of this school, left this city today at noon and journeyed to Terre Haute, via the Big Four, where at 2:30 this afternoon they pitted their skill in the national game against Rose Polytecnic on the Rose Field.¹⁸ Bradley University was played twice with each team gaining a victory by 4-5 and 12-1 scores. Indiana State took a beating in its first encounter by a

17-1 score, but came back to defeat Eastern 1-4 in the season's finale. Millikin was defeated in a single game 7-5 and DePauw, after a year's absence from the schedule, was also defeated by an identical 7-5 score.¹⁹

Coach A. B. Crowe's 1910 Eastern baseball team had a record of two wins, five losses, and one tie.²¹

Homer Sampson was the leading Panther pitcher for the season. Cecil Flaherty was used as a second pitcher when Sampson did not pitch. The infielders on the team were: Cecil Flaherty, Dave Kime, Charlie Hill, and Stanley Hill. Guy Vaughn, Bob Voyles, and Hewett Stansberry made up the outfield for Coach A. B. Crowe.

The 1910 squad played one or more games with the following teams: "Indiana State, Millikin, Rose Poly, DePauw, and the University of Illinois Freshmen."²² The scores of these games were not available from the records used in this study.

The Panthers traveled by train to all the away games. For example, when Mr. Albert Crowe's team traveled to Millikin, they caught the interurban train to Mattoon where the team boarded the Peoria, Tecatur, and Evansville train to Millikin. Mr. Charlie Hill, a member of the 1910 team said, "The school paid two cents a mile railroad fare for each player."²³

The team played the home games on the Eastern Athletic field where the Booth Library is now located. The diamond was situated so that the pitcher threw north. Bleachers were stationed on the first base side for fans who paid twenty-five cents to see the game.

Mr. Hill said, "One umpire was used behind the plate until someone got on base and then he would move behind the pitcher to call balls and strikes and the bases."²⁴

1911 SEASON

Eastern began the 1911 season by playing and defeating the Shelby County Business College 11-2 at Charleston. As it turned out, this victory was the only win of the season. Coach A. B. Crowe's team finished the season with a one won and seven loss record. Rose Poly played two games against Eastern, with the Panthers coming out on the short end by 2-6 and 0-12 scores. Eastern met another Terre Haute college, Indiana State, and found that they could also hand out defeats as State won two games by scores of 4-9 and 5-13. The University of Illinois Freshmen met and defeated Eastern in both games of a home and home series by 0-25 and 4-5 scores. Millikin completed the 1911 schedule by defeating Eastern 1-4.²⁵

Homer Sampson and Cecil Flaherty shared the pitching load for Eastern. Cecil Flaherty played right field when he was not pitching. Loyal Rardin at shortstop, Bill Schernekas at second base, Hewett Stansberry in center field, Dave Kime as catcher, and Merle Rankin in right field usually composed the Eastern lineup for the 1911 season.²⁶

CHAPTER III

THE EARLY ERA OF COACH CHARLES P. LANTZ FROM 1912 TO 1919

Mr. Charles P. Lantz succeeded Mr. A. B. Crowe as head baseball coach for the 1912 season.

Mr. Lantz graduated from Gettysburg College in 1908 where he enjoyed a very productive athletic career in football, baseball, and basketball. He began his teaching career in the Harrisburg Academy, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania in 1908. He remained there until 1911 as an instructor of chemistry and as a coach. It was in this same year, 1911 that Mr. Lantz was hired to provide leadership for Eastern's athletic program. The Eastern State News has this comment, "An era had begun--an era that was to span forty-one years, of both athletic triumph and defeat with head held high."¹

Mr. Lantz was married in Columbia, Pennsylvania in 1909 to the former Miss Mary Elizabeth Eshelman. They had two daughters, Mary Jane and Natalie. Natalie is residing in Pennsylvania. Both Mrs. Lantz and Mary Jane passed away before the death of Mr. Lantz on May 6, 1962. He was 77 years old. Dr. Maynard O'Brien, professor of physical education at Eastern had this to say about Mr. Lantz, "A quiet, considerate man of high ethics and great courage."²

Mr. Lantz accepted the athletic director's position at Eastern in 1911. He coached three major sports from 1912 until 1935. In 1935, Coach Lantz turned over his football and basketball coaching duties to younger men, but remained as baseball coach.

Mr. Charles P. Lantz coached his football teams to 95 wins, 56 losses, and 13 ties over a 24 year span as head coach. During this 24 year period, Eastern had four undefeated teams, two conference champions, and one co-champion.

"Pop" Lantz compiled a record of 192 wins, and 196 losses during this reign as head basketball coach for the Panthers.

In 1936, Mr. Lantz received his Master's Degree from the Pennsylvania State College. Gettysburg College, in appreciation of his 30 years of outstanding leadership in physical education, presented Mr. Lantz with an honorary Doctor of Pedagogy Degree in 1938. The Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference honored Mr. Lantz on many different occasions. He served as president eight times, vice-president once, and treasurer ten times. "Another recognition of Mr. Lantz's contributions to Illinois sports is the Lantz Trophy named in his honor, which is awarded annually to the most valuable baseball player in the Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference."³ Since Mr. Lantz's retirement, Eastern has honored him by re-naming the Health Education building to the Charles Philip Lantz Gymnasium and by setting up a scholarship fund in his name.

Eastern's baseball team under Coach Lantz won 11 games, lost 12 games, and tied 4 games. Mr. Lantz coached two teams, the 1947 and 1948 squads to conference pennants. He retired as baseball coach and athletic director in 1952. Mr. John A. Masley, athletic director at Eastern said, "Lantz was always ready to share the benefits of his long experience, but that he never attempted to interfere with the present athletic program. This, I consider to be the mark of a truly great man."⁴

1912 SEASONS

Eastern's 1912 baseball team was one with its ups and downs. The Wapper had this comment about the team, "With apparent ease and assurance the team would procede to win one game by an easy score and then with exactly the same apparent ease and assurance would lose the next one."⁵ The team, under its new coach, Mr. Lantz, won six games, lost three and tied one. During the middle of the season, Mr. Lantz received an injury and was forced to miss practice for several weeks.

Eastern began its rough schedule by suffering a 4-0 defeat at the hands of Millikin. In a rematch game later in the season, Eastern won a hard fought, but well deserved victory. The final score was Eastern 3 and Millikin 5. This victory for Coach Lantz and his crew came as a surprise to both sides and was a breaking victory for Eastern.

Indiana State, always a tough team, was defeated twice by Eastern. These victories, by 3-1 and 9-5 scores, marked the first time that Eastern had defeated Indiana State twice in one season. Rose Poly, Eastern's other foe from Terre Haute, was defeated by a 9-4 count on the Rose Field. In the second game, played in Charleston on May 15, the contest was called on account of rain after five innings with the score tied 0-0. The Wrapper made this comment about the game, "Eastern Illinois State Normal School was at bat with two men on base, one man out and a good hitter up, and Poly apparently weakening, the game was called on account of rain, the Eastern Illinois State Normal rooters counted it as good as a victory."⁶ In single games with Illinois Wesleyan and the University of Illinois Freshmen, Eastern won one and lost one. Eastern routed Wesleyan by a score of 13-7, but lost to the Illinois Freshmen 3-8. In completing the schedule, Eastern defeated Westfield College 4-0 and Charleston High School 10-2.

The squad members of the Eastern 1912 team were: William Schernekas at shortstop and second base, Hewett Stansberry in center field, David Kime as catcher, Homer Sampson as pitcher, Merle Rankin in center field, Bruce Corzine at first base, Edward Hill as pitcher, Cecil Flaherty at shortstop and pitcher, Harvey Morrison in right field, Robert Briggs at second base and third base, and in right field. The individual stars of this team were: Homer Sampson, Edward Hill, Pat Flaherty, Hewett Stansberry, Dave Kime, and Bruce Corzine. Bill Schornack, who was captain, did a real fine job of fielding, as did Corzine and Stansberry.

Eastern's 1913 baseball team played .500 ball as Mr. Lantz's crew won eight of sixteen ball games.

Although Eastern did win half of its games, the eight losses were the most ever recorded by an Eastern team up to the 1913 season. They did managed to outscore their opponents in total runs 97-72.

Rose Poly proved to be a rough neighbor as they defeated Eastern twice by scores of 5-2 and 0-7. Millikin, another strong rival, played and defeated Eastern by scores of 3-7 and 4-3. Illinois Wesleyan proved to be poor company as Eastern was outscored 5-6 at Charleston. In the second game at Bloomington, Illinois, Wesleyan was a good host as they were pounded for seven runs to only five for themselves. Teams appearing on Eastern's schedule for the first time were: Lincoln College of Lincoln, Illinois, McKendree College of Lebanon, Illinois, and Illinois College of Jacksonville, Illinois. Lincoln College turned out to be more than Coach Lantz's nine could handle as they defeated Eastern 2-6 and 4-3. Illinois College was more suited for Eastern's catch team as they defeated them 1-0. The season lined 4-3 victory. Eastern met Columbia College 3-1, once and defeated them by a run in of 1-1. Two victories from the Charleston team team and one from the Alumni completed the 1913 baseball schedule. The scores were 13-1, 3-2, and 21-2 respectively.⁷

The usual lineup for the Eastern team was: Andrew Percival as catcher, Homer Gordon at shortstop, Bill Schernekan at second base, Bruce Corzine at first base, Harvey Harrison in center field, Ed Hill as pitcher, Larry Sigler in right field, Cecil Flaherty at shortstop, and Maurice Hampton as pitcher.⁸ The individual stars of the season were Ed Hill of Springfield and Bruce Corzine at first base. Coach Lantz said in the Teachers College News, "Ed Hill was one of the best pitchers we ever had."

1914 SEASON

With six returning men back from the 1913 season, the baseball nine suffered its third losing season in the history of the sport at Eastern up to that time. They ran up a record of two wins and eight losses. This marked the second consecutive year that Eastern has been defeated eight times in one season. The two victories were the lowest win total up to the 1914 season, except for the 1911 season when Eastern managed to win only one game.

⁷1913 Teachers College News.

Eastern pitchers gave up 56 runs to opposing batters while the Panther hitters could only collect 36 off the opponent's pitchers. Coach Lantz's nine scored an average of 3.80 runs per game compared to the 5.60 average of the opponents.

The baseball team opened its 1914 schedule by being defeated by Arcola High School in a hard fought contest 2-3. In getting back to the college circles, Rose Poly proved to be too much for Eastern as they dished out 2-3 and 7-11 defeats. Millikin University proved to be just as rough on Eastern's team by lashing out 2-4 and 3-10 victories. In Eastern's first win, Mr. Lantz and his crew batted across eight runs while the Panther pitchers held the Charleston town team to four runs. In a home and home series with Bradley University of Peoria, Illinois, Eastern was defeated 2-3 on their field, but came back with a victory on the Charleston field by a narrow margin of 4-3. Illinois College defeated Eastern 5-7 in a single game on the home field. On June 10, the Alumni defeated the Eastern varsity by a 3-2 score to take some of the sting out of last year's 21-2 pounding by the varsity.¹⁰

a pitcher, and Lantz as pitcher.¹¹

One of the stars of the season was William C. Robinson of Robinson, Illinois and class of 1914.¹²

1915 Season

Victories again came hard for Eastern's baseball team in 1915. Mr. Charles L. Lantz and his team won four games and lost nine. The nine losses established a new record for Eastern as the most defeats in one season up to the 1916 season. Although Eastern managed only to win four of the thirteen games, they were outscored by only nine runs for the whole season. Eastern scored 53 runs for an average of 4.07 runs per game. Their opponents scored 62 runs for an average of 4.77 runs per game.

Illinois Wesleyan, reappearing on Eastern's baseball schedule after a year's absence, defeated Mr. Lantz's nine by doubling the score on them 3-6. Rose Poly out-slugged the Panthers twice to win both games by scores of 2-10 and 5-6. Eureka College of Eureka, Illinois suffered its first defeat from an Eastern baseball team by a 3-2 score on the Charleston field. The University of Illinois freshmen team displayed good talent to defeat Eastern twice by 6-6 and 7-6 scores. Millikin, the always tough foe from Decatur, lived up to his advance billing and defeated Eastern twice by 2-6 and 2-6 scores. After taking a long trip to Iowa, Illinois, Indiana and Michigan, Eastern returned to its home field, Illinois, and won its first game since again, this time at the hands of Illinois State Normal by a 3-0 score. In two games with an independent team, Eastern was able to boost its victory column, by soundly beating the Bushton Sluggers 7-1 and 10-1. The Alumni took a 2-1 edge in its series with the varsity as they defeated the varsity nine. The final score read: Alumni 4 and the Eastern varsity 3.¹³

The usual lineup as it appeared during the 1915 season was: Stan Glosser in center field, Sumner Wilson in right field, Harry Bigler at third base, Julian Anderson at first base, Lennie High at shortstop, Maurice Hampton as pitcher, Roscoe Hampton as catcher, Ralph Adams in left field, and Gordon Cook at second base.¹⁴ The individual stars were Maurice Hampton and Roscoe Hampton. Mr. Lantz said this about Roscoe in the Teachers College News, "Rocky Hampton caught on the varsity when he was in the ninth grade. He weighed about 120 pounds and never wore a breast protector or shin guards but very seldom did he have a passed ball."¹⁵

The 1916 baseball season saw a much improved nine at Eastern. The team, under the guidance of Mr. Charles E. Lantz compiled an eight won and four loss record. This was the second highest number of wins ever recorded by an Eastern baseball team up to that time. For the season, Eastern hitters batted against 111 runs for an average of 9.25 runs per game while the opponents could only score 65 for an average of 5.41 runs per game. The 111 runs scored by Eastern was the most ever scored by either Eastern or the opposition up to the 1916 season. Eastern averaged 9.25 runs a game over the whole season.

On April 14, Villa Grove High School arrived in Charleston and handed Eastern a 4-7 beating. Illinois Wesleyan was a little more to Eastern's liking as the Larksmen defeated them twice by 8-4 and 15-5 scores. In a game with Spark's Business College, Eastern batters received some good batting practice as they scored 18 times to only 5 for the opposition. Eastern continued to run up large scores as they defeated Illinois College 16-6 and 12-9. In a home and home series with Rose Poly, Eastern won the first game at Terre Haute 6-2 while Rose Poly avenged its earlier defeat by beating Eastern 4-6 on the Charleston field. Eastern played Millikin two games and gained a split from the series. Millikin won the first game 5-6 and Eastern won the rematch 7-2. Both were real good games and the Teachers College News said this about Eastern's 5-6 loss, "Although we wish to keep up the reputation of good clean sport, this is a game which we would have won if the umpire had been ka-rect. Of course, his decision was pretty rotten."

away until 16 runners had crossed the plate to only 6 for the Redbirds. Villa Grove High School, which opened Eastern's season with defeat, also ended Eastern's season by whitewashing the Panthers 0-7.¹⁷

The 1917 season was short lived due to the war and the men returning to the farm. Eastern only played three games out of a proposed thirteen game schedule. The Teachers College News said, "It certainly is too bad that our boys had to disband as we certainly had a ball team this year."¹⁹ The record for the Eastern baseball nine was three wins and no losses. Coach Lantz's crew outscored the opponents in total runs for the season by a 28 to 7 count. Eastern averaged 9.33 runs for its three games while the opposition was able to cross the plate an average of 2.33 runs per game.

On April 19, 1917 Eastern opened the season by soundly beating Illinois Wesleyan 7-1 on the Charleston field. Millikin also fell to the tough Lantzmen by a score of 9-5 in a well-played game. In this game Mack

Moore did an outstanding job of baserunning and fielding. Credit was also given to Steve Turner for making a great catch of a low liner and starting a double play. The Oakland town team was defeated 12-1 to close out the season.²⁰

The lineup as it appeared on the field for one game during the season was: Mack Moore in center field, Dale Coyle at second base, Les Cook at shortstop, Steve Turner at third base, Byron Markle at first base, Roscoe Hampton as catcher, Frank Harris in left field, John Hughes as pitcher, and Gene Gordon in right field.²¹ Outstanding players on the team were Mack Moore, Dale Coyle, Les Cook, Steve Turner, and Roscoe Hampton. John Hughes did a good job of hurling by allowing the opposition only seven runs in three games.

1913 SEASON

Coach Lantz re-organized the Eastern baseball team again in 1913 after they had disbanded the previous season. A seven game schedule was played with Eastern coming out on top in three of the contests. The three wins and four losses marked Eastern's first losing season since 1915. Although it was a losing season, Eastern outscored their opponents 75 runs to 40 runs for the season. The Panthers averaged 10.71 runs per game for the 1913 season. The opponents averaged 7.00 runs a game for the season.

Eastern opened its 1913 schedule by defeating the Charleston town team 39-0. This victory was the most decisive win Eastern has ever recorded. Once again Indiana State appeared on Eastern's schedule after several years absence. The Lantzmen found State as good as ever as the two teams split the series. Eastern won the first game in a close battle by a 6-4 count, but Indiana State came back to defeat the Panthers 5-7. Eastern and Millikin played a three game series with Millikin winning two of the three games. The scores were 5-12, 17-9, and 1-12 respectively. St. Viators of Bourbonnais, Illinois, defeated the Blue and Gray 2-5 to close out Eastern's schedule.²²

Thus with the conclusion of World War I, the early era of Coach Charles P. Lantz came to a close.

CHAPTER IV

THE MIDDLE ERA OF COACH CHARLES P. LANTZ FROM 1919 TO 1946

Although there was some doubt as to whether or not Eastern was to have a baseball team, Mr. Lantz organized nine players into a team and a schedule was played. With Mack Moore, Les Cook, Ralph Adams, and Floyd Wilson back for another season, Coach Lantz had a good core to build around. Eastern's record for the season was one win and six losses. In the runs scored department, Eastern was able to cross the opponent's plate only 22 times for the whole season. The opposition proved to be the better hitters as they crossed Eastern's home plate a total of 59 times. The Lantzmen averaged only 3.14 runs per game to establish a new low for any Eastern baseball team up to the 1920 season while the opponents scored at a 8.42 runs per game pace. Due to the war, the Warbler said, "Coach Lantz developed a good team considering the dominant conditions."¹

Eastern was defeated by Rose Poly in the first game of the 1919 season by a 1-6 score. Rose Poly played Eastern for the first time since 1916. In Eastern's initial meeting with Union Christian College of Merom, Indiana, Eastern whitewashed them 11-0 in what was the Panther's only victory of the season. In an unfortunate two game series with Indiana State, Eastern was badly beaten twice. Indiana State sluggers pounded across a grand total of 13 runs to only 1 for Eastern. In the return game with State, Eastern managed to score three runs altogether while State dented the scoring column twenty-nine times. St. Viator was too strong for Eastern as they were in 1913, by defeating the team from Charleston 1-9. Millikin handed Eastern their only shut-out of the season in a game played on the Charleston field. The final score was 0-6. The Alumni continued to master the Eastern varsity by scoring nine runs to only six by the varsity. The Alumni victory was the third straight win over the varsity. The varsity's only victory was in 1913 when the two teams met for the first time.²

The lineup as it appeared on the field for one game during the season was: Mack Moore as pitcher, Thurmon May at first base, Les Cook at shortstop, Ralph Adams in left field, James Lynch at second base, Emery Miles as catcher, Floyd Wilson at third base, Ralph Freeland in center field, and Herb McKenzie as pitcher and right fielder.³ Mack Moore was the captain of the team. He did the bulk of the pitching and performed very well. The 1913 scribner said, "The greatest weakness of the nine was its lack of batting ability."⁴

The 1929 baseball season was a story in itself. After games and losing six. This was Eastern's third straight losing season and was due mainly to poor pitching. Eastern pitchers allowed a total of 83 runs for the season and an average of 9.22 runs per game. Coach Lantz and his team crossed the enemy plate a total of 51 times for an average of 5.66 runs per game.

Returning lettermen from past Eastern ball teams were: Steve Turner, Floyd Wilson, Emory Miles, James Lynch, and Clyde Leathers. The new faces on the first team were: Joe Connelly, Linthicum, Paul Schneider, and Charles Prather.⁵

Millikin was Eastern's opening game opponent. The contest was played on Eastern's home field on April 24. Eastern won the hard fought game by a score of 4-3, but on May 5, Millikin got revenge by defeating the Panthers 4-13. Indiana State made it two defeats in a row over Eastern by batting across 20 runs to 1 for Eastern. St. Viator's prolonged their winning streak over Eastern as they defeated the Panthers 2-7 on Charleston's home field. Brown Shoe Factory from Charleston, Illinois furnished little competition for Coach Lantz's baseball team as they were easily defeated 21-2 and 1-0. Illinois State Normal brought a slugging ball team to Charleston on June 2 and went on to rout Eastern's victors for 17 runs while the Panthers were shut out.

The Alumni ran up their fourth straight victory by scoring six runs to only two for the varsity.⁶

1921 SEASON

The 1921 Eastern baseball team won three games and lost two. Coach Lantz's team scored a total of 16 runs for the season compared to 20 by the opposition. The Panthers averaged 3.20 runs a game while the rivals scored at a 4.00 runs per game clip. "At the first of this season Eastern did not have much of an outlook for baseball, and the coach decided to have a baseball tournament."⁸ Four or five baseball teams were organized at Eastern to play in the tournament. Mr. Lantz watched the games and decided on the nine best players to represent the school.

Eastern began the 1921 season against a team representing Brown Bros. Grocery. Irv Colbert pitched the Indiana State 1-7 in a game played on the local field. Eastern beat Charleston High School 14-1 for the team's third victory of the year. In two games with Millikin the Eastern nine was defeated by the scores of 4-11 and 10-17. A 5-10 defeat at the hands of the Alumni closed out Eastern's season.⁹

The lineup as it appeared for one game during the 1922 season was: Dale Coyle at second base, Floyd Wilson at third base, James Lynch at shortstop, Forrest Creathouse as pitcher, Gene Wallace in left field, Charles Prather in center field, Richard Fawley at first base, Orville Funkhouser as catcher, and Harold Black in right field.¹⁰ In mid season, Coach Lantz shifted Richard Fawley to the outfield and used Cleo Sefton on first base. Richard Fawley gave a good account of himself in the outfield as did Forrest Creathouse when he did not pitch. Forrest Creathouse had one of the highest batting averages ever made by an Eastern player.¹¹ On May 30, Creathouse was batting a fantastic .672. Another star on the team was Ray Duncan, who went to school for the last six weeks of each year. Ray Duncan was an extra valuable player because he could excel at any position.

1923 SEASON

Individual stars were in the spotlight for Mr.

⁹ Millikin, 1922-23.

Lantz's 1923 Eastern baseball team. The Coyle developed into a real reliable second baseman. Mr. Lantz could always count on a quick and snappy game from Coyle. He was an excellent second baseman and a fair hitter.¹² Lloyd Miller, who played shortstop, completed Eastern's strong defense at second base. In the outfield Forrest Greathouse and Roy Duncan performed very creditably. In commenting about Forrest Greathouse the Warbler said, "Greathouse is perhaps, the safest and hardest hitter who has worn an Eastern uniform."¹³

In an extra inning game, Eastern was defeated by Bradley 6-9. This was the first game of the season for Eastern and it went 12 innings. Eastern picked up their first victory of the young season, when the Lantzmen defeated a Mattoon independent team 6-1 on Scharer Field. Millikin, with another good team, defeated Eastern two times by scores of 4-7 and 6-3. In a single game with Illinois State Normal, Eastern fell before the Redbirds 7-9. May 26, was the day that the Alumni visited campus and were defeated by the Eastern varsity 4-3. The final game of the season was played against a Charleston town team. The score was 5-9.¹⁴

The lineup as it appeared in one of the games of the 1923 season was: Lloyd Miller at shortstop, The Coyle at second base, Joe Luckmore in right field, Forrest one house in center field, Eric Brown at third base, Elmer Warner in left field, Hugh Osborn at first base, Orville Funkhouser as catcher, and Dale Gilbert as pitcher.¹⁵ Duncan was installed in the lineup when he returned to school for the last six weeks. Ray Clabaugh did a share of the pitching for Eastern. The Warbler commented, "Clabaugh and Gilbert are the best prospects we have had in several years."¹⁶ Clabaugh and Gilbert threw the fast ones but both lacked the great control to go with the speed. Dale Coyle was the captain of the 1923 squad.

For the season, Eastern compiled a two won and six loss record. The team, under the direction of Coach Charles P. Lantz for the twelfth straight year, scored 42 runs compared to the 54 by the opposition. Eastern averaged 5.25 runs per game while the opponents were scoring at a 6.65 clip per game.

1924 SEASON

The Eastern baseball crew enjoyed one of its most successful seasons in several years by compiling an impressive record of seven wins and four losses. Coach Lantz's nine gave a very good showing both at bat and in the field. Dale Gilbert and Jesse Kohn did a creditable job of pitching. Eastern scored forty-nine runs in all games for an average of 4.5 runs per game. The opposition scored a total of twenty-three runs and an average of 5.72 runs per game.

Dale Coyle and Forrest Greenhouse and Ray Duncan were among the missing when Coach Lantz held the first practice. Ray Duncan came back for the last six weeks of school to play an important role. Ray Duncan was a valuable man in either battery position or the outfield. Coach Lantz would always play Duncan at the position he was needed most. Dale Gilbert did the major share of the pitching. The Warbler had this comment about the pitching, "Gilbert was unquestionably as good if not better than any moundsman who ever enrolled under the Eastern banner."¹⁷ Jesse Hohn, Eastern's second pitcher, did not compile the impressive record that Gilbert did. Hohn was often hurt by his lack of experience. William Green, the center fielder, was a real tough batter to get out.

The starting lineup for one game was: Lloyd Miller at shortstop, Ralph White at third base, William Green in center field, Hugh Osborn at first base, Ray Duncan as catcher, Joe Muchmore in right field, Harold Bennett at second base, Elmer Warner in left field, and Dale Gilbert as pitcher.¹⁸ Eric Brown was Eastern's catcher until Ray Duncan arrived during the later part of the season. Ray Duncan was captain of the 1924 squad.

Eastern got off to a good start by beating Roswell, 11-5. The following table shows the record for Eastern during the 1924 season.

as they blanked Coach Lantz's crew 9-0. In the 3 game between the two teams, Eastern scored a 5-2 win in a game played at Leoria. Indiana State defeated Eastern badly in both games of the series. The scores were 9-11 and 1-10.
Two of Eastern's nicest victories were over the team of Millikin University by 3-7 and 3-6 scores. Eastern beat Blackburn of Carlinville, Illinois by a score of 3-0. This was the only shut-out for an Eastern pitcher during the whole season. Coach Lantz's varsity nine split two games with the Alumni by 3-2 and 2-7 scores.¹⁹ The Warbler had this comment about the 1925 season, "It was a season that Eastern can be well proud of, and a realization of that brings forth tribute for Coach Lantz, who had the ability to weld together a nine that stood with the best of them."²⁰

1925 SEASON

The 1925 baseball season was one of inconsistency.
When the batters were getting the runs, the fielders were making too many errors and when the fielders were making the plays the batters were not hitting. The Panthers seemed to alternate between being able to hit and to field.²¹ The season record for Coach Lantz and his men was four victories and six defeats. While Eastern was scoring at a 6.20 runs per game average, the opponents were scoring at a 7.00 runs per game pace. Eastern scored a total of 32 runs for the season and the opponent scored 73.

Ten lettermen were back for the 1925 season. The ten lettermen were: Ralph Adams, Eric Brown, Ray Weger, Ruel Hall, Hugh Osborn, Harold Bennett, Ralph White, William Green, Jesse Lown, and Clyde Mills. Jesse Lown carried the bulk of Eastern's pitching load. The Wagons College News had this comment about Lown, "His large number of strikeouts, 95, speaks most favorably for him although he was a little wild at times."²² The two main hitters on the team were Ralph Adams and Eric Brown. Ray Weger, Ruel Hall, and Hugh Osborn were other hitters who contributed to a lesser degree.

DePauw gave Eastern their first loss of the new season. DePauw pounded across 10 runs to only 7 by the Lantzmen. DePauw also beat Eastern in the rematch by a score of 1-4. The Blue and Gray picked up two victories by defeating Rose Poly 5-1 and 5-2. After losing an early season game to Indiana 2-7, and to Ohio 3-10, the at shortstop, Jess Lonn in right field, and Ed Lantz at second base, R. W. Harrison at first base, and Ed Lantz at pitcher, and Fresno Linn at catcher.²⁴ The other Lantz players on the team were Jesse Lonn, Walter Adams, and William Green. Jesse Lonn alternated between the pitchers mound and right field. Herman Gilmore and Herb Cooper also performed very well with the bat.

In compiling a five won and seven loss record, Eastern scored a total of 74 runs and an average of 6.61 runs per game. The opposition scored 81 runs for the season and an average of 6.75 runs per game. The Harbly said this about the Panthers, "We ended the season with an average of .500 in the Little Nineteen."²⁵ The Little Nineteen was a conference, which originated in 1900 and composed of Illinois colleges.

Line returning lettermen aided Eastern's baseball team in completing a rather successful season. Coach Lantz's team picked up five victories out of nine ball games, for the season. "Eastern finished the season with a three won and three loss record in Little Nineteen play."²⁶ This squad developed into a very good ball team. They were good hitters and had superior pitching. Jesse Lonn, Tom Lee, Dwight Reed, and John Crawford all had the ability for the Panthers. Jesse Lonn was pitcher of the first 11. He was faced with control problems the first part of the season, but he soon settled down. Jesse Lonn had good stuff, as he struck out about one-third of the batters who faced him.²⁷ The second base position was played by Dwight Tappert. Dwight Tappert, Ralph Leber, Jesse Lonn, and William Green were outstanding with the bat.

Eastern opened its 1927 baseball campaign against a good Indiana State team. In the game played on March 30, the Lantzmen were beaten 4-13. The return game, played at Charleston, was won by Eastern 3-6. The Teachers College News reported about the game, "Lonn was wild but effective in every inning except the eighth, while his support was erratic at all times. It was solid hitting by Bill Green, left fielder, with a triple, double, and three singles in five times at bat that won the old ball game."²⁸ Rose Poly was beaten by Eastern in a hard-hitting affair 12-5. Eastern ball players continued to bat the ball hard as the Lantzmen defeated Illinois State Normal by scores of 10-11 and 7-4. Millikin, in a single game, was victorious over the Eastern Panthers by a score of 1-5. Churtleff's pitcher proved to be real rough on Eastern batsmen by whitewashing Coach Lantz's team 9-7 in a game played at Elton. In the return game, Eastern won a close one by a 3-2 score. Illinois College wanted to score their last 10 of the season in the 3-1 ball game. For the season, Eastern scored a total of 37 runs to the 13 scored by the opponents. All Eastern pitchers were giving up an average of 7.12 runs per game, and the hitters could only average 3.33 runs per game.

The 1923 baseball season was a big disappointment for Eastern's diamond followers. "Although Eastern won only one game, there were many exciting games and exhibitions of good ball-playing."³¹ The top performers on Coach Lantz's nine were Fresco Shipman, Clifford Colbreath, and Sherman Gilmore. Fresco Shipman, who replaced the graduated Jesse Lonn as the ace of the staff, did the bulk of the pitching for Eastern.

Coach Lantz's lineup for one game during the season read as follows: Albert Miller in left field, Ralph Leber as catcher, Clifford Colbreath at second base, Sherman Gilmore in center field, Robert Lynch at third base, Fresco Shipman as pitcher, and W. M. Harrison at first base.

Eastern's third win, a 1-0 triumph over the Blue and Gray of Illinois College, at Urbana, May 11, 1935.⁶²

Eastern's win over the Blue and Gray of Illinois College, May 11, 1935, was a 1-0 victory for Eastern. The Blue and Gray of Illinois College edged the Eastern Panthers by scores of 2-1 and 3-7. Eastern's bats continued to be weak as William Deford of Blue and Gray 2-3 and 3-10. Illinois College added two victories to their win column by outscoring the Panthers 6-3 and 3-5, in the close games. In the first contest of the game series, Shurtleff College of Alton edged Eastern 3-1. Then on May 2, after five straight games without victory, Eastern beat Shurtleff 16-11. Indiana State defeated Eastern 3-10 to complete the 1935 schedule.⁶³

Eastern's opponents also outscored the Panthers in total runs 51-64. The Blue and Gray averaged 4.10 runs per game while the opposition scored at a 7.00 runs per game average.

1935 SUMMER

Seven lettermen reported to Coach Lantz for the 1935 baseball season. Dwight Tappert, Sherman Gilmer, Clifford Keller, Ed, and Art Lyne, Vernon Gilmer, Arthur L. Gilmer, and Paul Hall were the lettermen. Eastern's season was a disappointment. With the exception of a 3-0 victory over the Blue and Gray of Illinois College, Eastern's record was 1-4. The Blue and Gray of Illinois College won 3-0 and 3-1. Eastern's record was 1-4.

left field, and John G. Brown was a catcher. The team was led by Coach Frank H. Hildner.³⁶ The entire lineup for the 1929 team was Dwight Tappert, Prince Sherman, Clifford Colburn, and Sherman Gilmore. Sherman Gilmore was the captain of the 1929 squad.

Eastern's 1930 baseball season became the fourth team to win only one game for an entire season up to the 1930 season. The Panthers' record was one win and five defeats. The Warbler said, "As far as percentage of wins and losses is concerned the season was not so successful, but the number of close games played shows the caliber of the team."³⁷

Eastern scored a total of 30 runs for the season while the opponents scored 67. The 1930 Panthers scored an average of 6.00 runs per game and the opposition averaged 11.16 runs per game.

The six lettermen back for the 1930 season were: Charles Trye, Henry Miller, Dwight Tappert, Leon Strider, Stan Wason, and Robert Lynch. Eastern started the new season off by battling Illinois State Normal. The game ended 15-16 in favor of Normal. Illinois College defeated Eastern 6-2 in another hard-hitting contest. Indiana State continued the onslaught of Eastern with a 10-0 victory over Eastern on May 11. Eastern's record for the 1930 season was 1-5.

The lineup for Jason Santa's team for one ball game was: Dwight Lippert at second base, Virgil King at shortstop, Robert Lynch at third base, Stan Mason as pitcher, Joe Kirk in center field, Lerland Bennett as pitcher, Henry Kinney at first base, Roscoe Luckler in left field, Rogers in right field, and Leon Strader as catcher.⁴⁰

Twenty-four candidates greeted Mr. Lantz at the start of the 1931 season. Of the twenty-four, only four were lettermen. Dwight Rappert, Joe Kirk, and Stan Mason had won their letter last season while Dean Smith won his award several seasons ago.

The team compiled a three win and six loss record. The Eastern nine scored a total of 45 runs for the season while the opposition bounded Eastern pitchers for 21 runs. For the nine games, Eastern averaged 5.00 runs per game and the opponents averaged 10.33 runs per game.

14-9 in a hitters game. The Teacher College Press, reported, "All hitting honors of the day went to Roscoe Buckler, the Panther shortstop, who collected 1 home run, a triple, and two singles in five trips to the plate."⁴¹ Indiana State hitters pounded Eastern pitchers for a total of 46 runs in two games as they defeated the Panthers 6-12 and 2-27. Eastern pitchers continued to be batted around as Illinois State Normal beat the Lantzmen 6-11. On May 1, Illinois College played the Blue and Gray in Charleston. The Panthers established a new record for errors and donated Illinois College with a 12-3 victory. "The local infield bobbed up with nine errors and spoiled a well played game by Fitzhugh."⁴² The Panthers settled down against Concordia and defeated them in both games of a doubleheader by scores of 5-4 and 5-3. In the last two games of the season, Millikin defeated Eastern 2-5 and 2-6.⁴³

The 1932 Eastern Panthers finished the season with

_____ _____, _____, _____,

Coach Lantz stationed the players at the following positions: Larry Halsey at second base, Irvin Singler at first base, Porter Simon at short stop, Ernest Prieco at third base, Roscoe Buchler in center field, Ernest Prieco in right field, Roscoe Buchler in left field, and Fred Wisaur as catcher.⁴⁶

The leading hitter on the team was third baseman, Dean Thomasson. Ernest Prieco, Irvin Singler, and Porter Simon gave added hitting strength to Coach Lantz's lineup. Larry Fitzhugh, Irvin Lannen, Hayden Brady, and Earl Curry did the pitching for the 1932 season.

1933 SEASON

The Eastern baseball team fared well this season, winning five out of eleven games. Coach Lantz's team had a record of four wins and four losses in the Little Nineteen Conference. Although Eastern did not have a winning percentage, the Panthers did manage to outscore their opponents in total runs--52-52. In the eleven games played, Eastern averaged 5.27 runs per game to a 4.61 average for the rivals.

Illinois Wesleyan defeated Eastern in the first game of the season 4-0. Harry Fitzhugh and "Okey" Monofinger combined to pitch a four-hitter while the Panthers were gathering eleven hits. In the next game against Illinois Wesleyan, "Okey" Monofinger was the losing pitcher for Eastern. The final score was 5-3. Eastern again out-hit its opponent, Shurtleff, 14-11, but lost the game by a final score of 7-0. Harry Fitzhugh was the losing pitcher. 1. Introduction

The purpose of this report is to provide a detailed account of the results of the experiments conducted during the past year. The experiments were designed to investigate the effects of various factors on the rate of reaction between the two substances. The results show that the rate of reaction is significantly affected by the concentration of the reactants and the temperature of the system. The data obtained from the experiments are presented in the following tables and graphs.

The first experiment was conducted at a constant temperature of 25°C. The rate of reaction was measured for different concentrations of the reactants. The results show that the rate of reaction increases with increasing concentration of the reactants. The second experiment was conducted at different temperatures, with the concentration of the reactants held constant. The results show that the rate of reaction increases with increasing temperature. The third experiment was conducted to determine the effect of a catalyst on the rate of reaction. The results show that the catalyst significantly increases the rate of reaction.

The data obtained from the experiments are presented in the following tables and graphs. The first table shows the rate of reaction for different concentrations of the reactants at 25°C. The second table shows the rate of reaction for different temperatures at a constant concentration of the reactants. The third table shows the effect of a catalyst on the rate of reaction. The graphs show the relationship between the rate of reaction and the concentration of the reactants and the temperature of the system.

In commenting on the pitchers the Journal said, "Les Jocelin and Paul Jones being two of the best pitchers in the conference." Jones and Wadley handled the bulk of the Eastern pitching work.

Paul Jones was already well known as a pitcher for the Central Journal. He played a good deal in the Eastern League, and was a good pitcher. Jones and Wadley were the only pitchers in the Eastern League who had pitched in the Eastern League.

The 1942 season began minus five players from the 1941 Panther squad. Bill Glenn, Paul Henry, and Dave Hart had graduated the spring before. Some of the veterans back for the new season were: Oliver Anderhalter, Junior Phipps, Leo Tosolin, Herschel Jones, Paul Jones, Joe Zupsich, Cid Resch, and Carroll Endsley.

Behind the strong arms of pitchers Paul Jones and Carroll Endsley, the Panthers chalked up a fair record of six wins and seven defeats. The Eastern Teachers News commented, "The baseball team, under the tutelage of Coach Charles P. Lantz, Athletic Director at Eastern, was a prominent contender for the conference championship, although faltering in the final lap of the race."⁷³ Eastern outscored the opposition in total runs 58-53. Panther batters crossed the plate an average of 4.14 runs a game while Eastern pitchers limited the opposition to only 3.78 runs a game.
